ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. L. L. THURMAN, of Washington county, is a candidate for Circuit Judge in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Marion and Washington, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

HON. C. W. METCALFE.

On the 25th of this month the Democrats of the 11th district will meet at Somerset to nominate a candidate for Congress. We are informed that the Hon. C. W. Metcalfe, of Pineville, will accept the nomination if it is tendered him. There is no better man than Metcalfe. He is a lawyer of ability and reputation, a Democrat of the Jeffersonian stripe, a forceful speaker and would make a splendid candidate and if elected an ideal Congressman, whose ability would be recognized by his colleagues.

Democrats, nominate Metcalfe, and with him on the stump against either Edwards or Hunter you would not be ashamed of him.

The time has come when every progressive citizen of Columbia realizes that water works are badly needed, not merely as a matter of convenience, but the health and business interests of the town would be materially affected by a good supply of water under reasonable pressure. We do not mean to say the wells in town are all bad, but it does not take an expert to determine that those on the square are not as good and wholesome as we would like. Whether the water is healthy or not is a question in the minds of many users, but we all know that the wells are not satisfactory in many respects. Leaving off the purity and quality of the water, or accepting the statement that both are sufficient, then we say that from the standpoint of convenience the people of Columbia should have water works. A good system would place water in every business house and the homes would soon be fitted up with modern plumbing and bath tubs and all the conveniences and comforts of pure water. From a business view we can afford water works because it would give protection against fire and would reduce insurance rates which would be to the advantage of every property owner and business man in the town. There are several sufficient supplies of pure water within easy reach of the town which could be utilized at a small cost. We need the water works; we have the elevations and the water and there are no reasons why this important progressive step should not be made. It can be accomplished for a few thousand dollars, and would be a profitable business to the owners. We suggest that the town put in the plant. There is no reason, we can see, why a bonded indebtedness for this purpose should not be made, and if the town should not desire the full ownership, there are several citizens who would take a part of the stock. Gentlemen, of the Council, what think you? Citizens of Columbia, speak out on this proposition. The News offers you a chance to express yourselves.

The Democratic convention of the Fifth Appellate district convened in Lexington on the 4th and split wide open. It is not our business to say who is right nor who wrong, but it seems to us that Chairman W. A. Lee, in attempting to secure advantages for his choice, in forming the temporary organization, went far beyond the limit of fair precedents in Democratic conventions and teachings. There is no way better than the old one, fair and square and play no favorites. It is to be regretted that any Democrat will not submit to and insist on fair methods. A candidate may often secure a nomination or gain an unjust advantage, yet he will lose in the general struggle. The day has come when many men will not meekly bow to party lash and support nominees and men who aid in securing nominations for their friends through corrupt measures. Every man wants to be treated fair whether he is willing to give such treatment or not. Such methods, such conventions will do no good, only trouble and weakness.

The argument in the case of W. P. Brett, administrator, against the Glasgow Railway Company, etc., closed Wednesday afternoon, and special Judge Rollin Hurt at once began the delivery of his opinion. He took up the petition, the answer, the amended petition, the amended answer, and the demurrers to each, section by section, discussed the law as applied to each paragraph and in some instances sustained the demurrers, overruling them in others. The result of his decision, as viewed by an outsider, is that, if the allegations in Brett's petition are true, he has a cause of action, but, if the Railway Company can prove what is contained in its answer he can not recover anything. This practically leaves the case where it was before the trial. Finally the case will be taken and the case will be finally disposed of at the November term of the Barren Circuit Court--Glasgow Times.

The State Board of Health will endeavor to secure indictments against all the railroads in Kentucky, charging that their cars are kept in such an unsanitary condition that the welfare of the traveling public is imperiled. It is alleged that the roads have failed to comply with the regulations made by the State Board, and on this their indictments will be based.

The bear and the lion, have according to the latest returns, settled in a terrible growing out of the seizure of a British ship in the Red Sea. The ship has been released. The Japanese are also engaged in searching vessels for contraband of war. But it is only poor old Russia that comes in for a kick.

The Indiana Democrats have unanimously nominated John W. Kern for Governor. He is a strong man and Chairman Taggart, of the National Committee says he will win together with the rest of the State ticket.

Mr. Wm. Conover, who has been confined to his bed for the past ten months with rheumatism, is not any better. His son, Hudson, was in town Friday and stated that he could see no change in his condition.

Mr. S. C. Neat returned from Louisville last Friday after contracting with the old reliable firm of Otter & Co., grocerymen, to represent that firm in this part of the State. The firm is well known and favorably known as well as Mr. Neat in this territory since he was their representative for more than a year, giving up his position last March on account of bad health. It is a good firm, a good representative and we predict that all Mr. Neat's old patrons will be glad to see him on the road again.

Mrs. J. R. Hindman paid the News office a visit last Friday. After congratulating us upon our outfit, said: "I am for Judge Parker for the Presidency, don't you think he is elected?"

The Governor was with his wife and responded, "I have been telling you for some time that you were learning the wrong way." The gold Democrats have not unanimously announced for Parker, and as the best part of Governor Hindman's family has declared, we hope to hear of a favorable declaration from him at an early day.

Mayor Wilson is now endeavoring to save from damage some of the business houses upon the square from heavy freshets. In places the square had become too low and when the rain came the water lapped upon the buildings. He has had levies made with gravel with the hope of turning the tide.

Ella, a daughter of Mr. G. G. Reynolds, died last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She was about sixteen years old and was sick but a short time. She was a very estimable young lady, her death bringing sorrow to the home and among the friends of the neighborhood. The bereaved family has the sympathy of this paper.

Mrs. E. L. Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Sallie McLean, this place, was in a railroad collision at Horse Cave last Wednesday night, which resulted in her being in McCrory, Ark., from a visit to Columbia. There was a head-on collision by No. 1 south-bound train and No. 2 north-bound. There were 27 persons hurt, none of them very seriously. Hamilton's home was injured.

An oil company with a capital of $500,000 has been organized in Glasgow for the purpose of operating in Cumberland and adjoining counties. Mr. L. W. Preston, the well-known banker, is the President of the company, and in whose honor it was named. Mr. Preston was in all probability attending our Fair with a fine string of horses, at which time he will tell us all about the enterprise.

Some time ago we made the statement that to our knowledge there was not a man living who was a member of the jury who hung Richard Smith for killing Elzy Morgan. Mr. J. R. Montgomery was in our office last Thursday and stated that he was one of the jurors. This trial occurred forty years ago and Mr. Montgomery thinks he is the youngest man on the jury. He is now in his 72d year.

We have heard of several raids on watermelon patches and while we have no sympathy for a fellow who will steal melons, yet we feel that a word of warning might save some one from picking shot out of his body. There has been a patch visited, to our certain knowledge, that will introduce the shotgun to the next intruders either day or night. If you don't want lead keep off the premises.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company for Kentucky has changed management. Mr. J. S. Carpenter, formerly of Louisville, has been retained as the special agent for this section of the State. He has been with the company twenty years.

Mention of the picnic at the Lindsay Wilson school grounds on the 26th of last month was unintentionally overlooked by this paper last week. Quite a large number of children and grown persons were present, and those who attended speak of it as a very delightful occasion. There were a number of interesting games, and some excellent singing rendered by the children. Dinner was spread and there was an abundance for all present and for as many more had they been upon the grounds. The children will long remember the occasion as a happy event in their lives.

DEATH OF MRS. RACHEL NEEL.

Last Thursday morning, about 8 o'clock, the subject of this writing, after a long illness, succumbed to the inevitable and passed over the river of death.

The deceased was born and reared in Adair county, about thirty-five years of life having been spent in Columbia. When quite a young woman she made a profession of her faith in Christ, united with the Presbyterian Church, and lived a consistent Christian life until the time of her death.

Mrs. Neel was a victim of a cancer and everything that medical skill and loving friends could do failed to bring about relief. Last year she accompanied her husband to Hot Springs, Ark., with the hope that the water at that noted resort would cure her ailment, but like all other tried remedies, it failed to give relief. Soon after returning from the Springs she took her bed and gradually grew worse until relieved of her sufferings.

Mrs. Neel was twice married, her first husband being Capt. Geo. W. Neel, who served Adair county as County Court Clerk, and who was a practicing attorney at the time of his demise. About twenty years after the death of her first husband, she was married to Hon. Geo. Neel, who survives her, with two children by her first husband, Mr. John Neel, who lives in the West, and Mrs. Mary Russell, wife of Dr. C. M. Russell, this city.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church last morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Clemens, many relatives and sympathizing friends being present. The interment was in the city cemetery.

The match game of baseball between Columbia and Greenburg, played at this place last Saturday afternoon, was the most interesting contest ever witnessed by the citizens of Columbia, and terminated in a victory for the home team, the score standing 10 to 3.

Three of the scores for Columbia were made by M. C. Winfree and one by Ben Jeffries. We did not get the name of the Greenburg player, who was credited with the one score won by his side. Dr. R. Y. Hindman did fine work at first base, putting out four or six men, and playing the ball well.

Dr. E. B. Atkinson, of this place, is a railroad collision at Horse Cave last Wednesday night, which resulted in her being in McCrory, Ark., from a visit to Columbia. There was a head-on collision by No. 1 south-bound train and No. 2 north-bound. There were 27 persons hurt, none of them very seriously. Hamilton's home was injured.

MEETING OF THE DOCTORS.

The Russell Springs Medical Society met in Columbia on Thursday, August 1st, 1904, with the following members present: J. B. Scholl, James, President; L. F. H. Hammond, Duane, Vice President; L. H. Hammond, Irvin's Store, Secretary; J. T. Wesley, Middleburg; L. S. Wesley, Liberty; Wm. Blair, Glasgow; T. Simpson, Bowling Green; S. A. Taylor, Gradyville; W. T. Grissom, Bliss; N. M. Hancock and C. D. Moore, Cane Valley; J. H. Gandy, Columbia; E. B. Atkinson, Cane Valley; W. R. Grissom, Columbia; U. L. Taylor, Columbia; W. F. Cartwright, Albany; C. M. Russell, Columbia; Monroe Blair, Irvin's Store; R. Y. Hindman, Columbia; Holland Simpson, Bowling Green; and R. C. McChord, Lebanon.

The society was opened with prayer by W. K. Ashill, followed by an address of welcome by M. R. Yarkerley, and response by U. L. Taylor. There were quite a number of good papers read. The first was by Wm. Blair on "Home Sanitation." The paper was a timely one, and one that should be read to every common school in the whole country. The paper was discussed by nearly all the members present. The next paper was one on "Inflammatory Rheumatism," by W. T. Grissom. It took up the several different theories of the cause of rheumatism, including the ever prevalent theory, that the cause was an able one, and was discussed by quite a number of the medical men present. Dr. W. R. Grissom presented an able paper on "Hypertrophy of the Heart." This is a difficult subject to discuss, but it was well done in the paper, and by the various speeches made on it.

Dr. I. S. Wesley, of Liberty, gave a good talk on "Fractures." He had left his paper at home by accident, but his talk showed that he was well up on the subject. Several of the members spoke on the subject. Dr. J. T. Wesley, of Middleburg, read a very able paper on "Hepatic Colic," which covered the attention of the whole society for at least an hour. At the night session, which was an open one, Dr. McChord, of Lebanon, read a paper on "Strangulated Hernia," in which he reported some very interesting cases. The discussion which followed, was very interesting to the profession.

Dr. U. L. Taylor then read a lengthy paper on the "Sanitary Possibilities of the Panama Canal," which was received with close attention by the whole house, and was discussed by Dr. W. T. Grissom and W. K. Ashill, after which the society adjourned till the banquet hall at the Marcan Hotel, where the Columbia club physicians had caused to be spread a banquet for all the physicians present, their wives and families. At least two hours were spent here in eating and toasting, and speechifying generally. After supper some good music was rendered by Miss Mattie Taylor, Mary Grissom and Mrs. J. R. Hindman.

The society met again on Friday morning and listened to a paper read by Dr. J. H. Gandy, on "Epidemic Dysentery." Quite a number of speeches were made on this paper, after which Mr. Gordon Montgomery gave us an essay on "Medical Jurisprudence," which was well received and highly commended. It was very timely, and was freely discussed and the society unanimously passed a resolution thanking the young lawyer for his interesting paper.

After some resolutions, thanking the town for their hospitality, the county officials for the use of the court-house, the county doctors for their labors, the society adjourned after one of the most interesting and profitable meetings that it has ever held, to meet at the Russell Springs on the first Thursday in August, 1905.

It took up the several different theories of the cause of rheumatism, including the ever prevalent theory, that the cause was an able one, and was discussed by quite a number of the medical men present. Dr. W. R. Grissom presented an able paper on "Hypertrophy of the Heart." This is a difficult subject to discuss, but it was well done in the paper, and by the various speeches made on it.

Dr. I. S. Wesley, of Liberty, gave a good talk on "Fractures." He had left his paper at home by accident, but his talk showed that he was well up on the subject. Several of the members spoke on the subject. Dr. J. T. Wesley, of Middleburg, read a very able paper on "Hepatic Colic," which covered the attention of the whole society for at least an hour. At the night session, which was an open one, Dr. McChord, of Lebanon, read a paper on "Strangulated Hernia," in which he reported some very interesting cases. The discussion which followed, was very interesting to the profession.

Dr. U. L. Taylor then read a lengthy paper on the "Sanitary Possibilities of the Panama Canal," which was received with close attention by the whole house, and was discussed by Dr. W. T. Grissom and W. K. Ashill, after which the society adjourned till the banquet hall at the Marcan Hotel, where the Columbia club physicians had caused to be spread a banquet for all the physicians present, their wives and families. At least two hours were spent here in eating and toasting, and speechifying generally. After supper some good music was rendered by Miss Mattie Taylor, Mary Grissom and Mrs. J. R. Hindman.

The society met again on Friday morning and listened to a paper read by Dr. J. H. Gandy, on "Epidemic Dysentery." Quite a number of speeches were made on this paper, after which Mr. Gordon Montgomery gave us an essay on "Medical Jurisprudence," which was well received and highly commended. It was very timely, and was freely discussed and the society unanimously passed a resolution thanking the young lawyer for his interesting paper.

After some resolutions, thanking the town for their hospitality, the county officials for the use of the court-house, the county doctors for their labors, the society adjourned after one of the most interesting and profitable meetings that it has ever held, to meet at the Russell Springs on the first Thursday in August, 1905.
